CÉGEP À LA CARTE & AEC PROGRAMS | COURSES

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Credits may be applied to an Attestation in Finance (LCA.84). See p.11

Introduction to Business

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 410-A03-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

This course introduces the economic system within which business operates and then explores the four functional areas of business such as Finance, Marketing, Personnel and Production. By discussing the vocabulary and practices of each of the segments, students derive an understanding of how the areas function independently and together, as well as the social and economic environments which affect them.

Monday: 18:00 – 21:00

Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter Monday: May 21)

Marketing

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 410-A13-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

This introductory marketing course provides a general but sound understanding of the principles of marketing, conventional marketing terms and definitions, and the marketing manager's job. Students develop, within a Canadian context, an appreciation of the marketing environment and its relationship to marketing problems and decisions. Consumer behaviour and the "marketing mix" (product, price, promotion, distribution) are the basis for the principles under discussion.

Thursday: 18:30 – 21:30

Jan. 31 – May 16

Accounting I

60 hours, 2.66 credits | 410-104-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

This introductory course in Accounting outlines the record-keeping and data accumulation aspects of accounting in order to provide the student with a sound knowledge of fundamental accounting techniques. After an introduction to double-entry bookkeeping principles, this course covers recording transactions, adjusting entries, worksheets, preparation of financial statements, use of special journals, as well as topics relating specifically to the accounting treatment of cash, accounts receivable, inventories and fixed assets.

Tuesday: 18:30 – 22:30

Jan. 29 – May 14

Computerized Accounting: SAGE 50 (formerly Simply Accounting)

60 hours, 2.00 credits | 410-304-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Accounting I, 410-104)

Students learn how to convert manual accounting records into computerized information with SAGE Accounting® for Windows software. After introducing computerized accounting principles, hands-on exercises include: preparing a chart of accounts; business transactions (including GST), paying suppliers, and depositing customers' cheques. Students generate financial statements and develop an understanding of the importance of internal control and audit trails.

Wednesday: 18:30 – 22:30

Jan. 30 – May 15

Finance

60 hours, 2.00 credits | 410-B24-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Accounting I, 410-B34)

This course focuses on the acquisition and management of funds. It discusses short-term sources of funds such as bank loans and commercial paper, and long-term sources such as bonds, preferred shares and common shares. Working capital policy and the concept of financial leverage are examined followed by a calculation of the cost of capital.

Wednesday : 18:00 – 22:00

Jan. 30 – May 15

Taxation

60 hours, 2.33 credits | 410-624-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Accounting I, 410-104)

This course introduces students to the subject of personal and business income tax. Topics include residency, liability for income taxes, computation of income, net income and taxable income, business income vs. employment income, business and property income vs. capital gain. Students learn many of the specific provisions of the law which apply to employment, business and property income, deductions from income including capital cost allowance (depreciation): capital gains, income tax payable and taxable income. At course end, students should be capable of completing most income tax returns with a high degree of accuracy.

Monday : 18:30 – 22:30

Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter Monday: May 21)

Networking
Academy

The Cisco Networking Academy Program teaches students to design, build and maintain computer networks. The curriculum covers a broad range of topics from basic networking skills, such as pulling cables, to more complex concepts applying advanced troubleshooting tools.

The program combines instructor-led classroom, online learning with hands-on laboratory exercises where students apply what they learn in class while working on actual networks. Upon successful completion of the four modules, students are eligible to write the Cisco Certified Network Associate (CCNA) examination.

Prerequisite: good knowledge of computer fundamentals.

Cisco III

90 hours, 3.00 credits | 420-EA6-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Cisco II – no equivalency permitted)

- OSI model and industry standards
- Network topologies
- IP addressing, including subnet masks
- Networking components
- Basic network design
- Troubleshooting

Tuesday & Thursday: 18:30 – 22:30

Saturday: 09:00 – 13:00

Jan. 29 – Mar. 21

Cisco IV

90 hours, 3.00 credits | 420-EB6-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Cisco III – no equivalency permitted)

- Hierarchical Network Design
- PPP
- Frame Relay
- Broadband Solutions
- Securing Site to Site Connectivity
- Monitoring the Network

Tuesday & Thursday: 18:30-22:30

Saturday: 09:00-13:00

Mar. 26 – May 21 (no class on April 20 and May 18)

ECONOMICS

Macroeconomics

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 383-920-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

The purpose of this course is to familiarize students with important macroeconomic concepts such as the determination of gross national product, the unemployment rate, the consumer price index, business cycles, the creation of money, and the balance of payments. Fiscal and monetary instruments of economic policy are examined in the context of the Canadian economy. Topics dealing with international trade and finance in relation to the Canadian experience are also discussed.

Monday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter*Monday: May 21)

GRAPHIC & WEB DESIGN

Credits may be applied to an Attestation in Publication and Web Design (LCE.0Z). See p. 11

Drawing Software: Illustrator

60 hours, 2.00 credits | 412-B03-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

Using Adobe Illustrator CC, students will create drawings on the computer consisting of objects that can be graphic elements and text elements. They will create and trace template layers with the Pen tool (Bezier). They will also use the Reshape tool and Pathfinder to create 2D art. They will create 3D effects using gradient mesh, gradients, blends and 3D effects that extrude objects or give them perspective. Students will also make symbols and design brush strokes. Artwork created will include a tracing project and an illustration with 3D effects.

Wednesday: 18:30 – 22:30Jan. 30 – May 15*Page Design: InDesign

60 hours, 2.00 credits | 412-B04-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

Using Adobe InDesign CC, students will learn how to customize and create master pages, templates with guides, text, pictures, colours and styles in a variety of page layout applications. They will integrate these features in creative projects, such as posters, flyers, journals and calendars. Layout is the main focus of this course and students will create layouts for various print formats.

Thursday: 18:30 – 22:30Jan. 31 – May 16*Web I

60 hours, 2.00 credits | 412-B08-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

This course provides students with a thorough grounding in the basics of HTML (structural tags, site hierarchy, links, etc.). As well, they will learn the Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) language allowing them to enhance the appearance of their websites, and produce sophisticated design layouts using typographical effects, color and basic interactivity. Students will create websites that are technically functional, aesthetically pleasing, and marketable.

Tuesday: 18:30 – 22:30Jan. 29 – May 14*Web II

60 hours, 2.33 credits | 412-B09-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Web I, 412-B08)

Building on the fundamentals of HTML and CSS coding learned in Web I, this second web course offers a practical hands-on approach to creating and managing a live web site. Students will further develop their understanding of structural mark-up and CSS design using Adobe Dreamweaver CC. They will also learn to manage their web site: including getting a domain name and web hosting account, setting up email and SFTP, installing open source web applications such as blogs and learn the basic best practices for search engine optimization.

Monday: 18:30 – 22:30Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter*Monday: May 21)

EVENING ATTESTATION (AEC) PROGRAMS

CISCO NETWORKING ATTESTATION AEC LEA.BJ

OBJECTIVE

To teach students to design, build and maintain computer networks. Upon successful completion of the four courses, students are eligible to write the Cisco Certified Network Associate (CCNA) examination.

DEC PROGRAMS | COURSES

ANTHROPOLOGY

Introduction to Anthropology

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 381-100-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

Anthropology is the study of all aspects of human life from the distant past to the present and throughout all areas of the world. In this course you will be introduced to the methods and concepts of physical anthropology, archaeology, and cultural anthropology. Through lectures and labs you will learn about human evolution, the prehistory and history of ancient civilizations, and the diversity of cultures in the world today. This introductory course will provide you with general knowledge of anthropology as well as prepare you for more specialized courses in the field.

Tuesday: 18:30 – 21:30

Jan. 29 – May 14

Medical Anthropology

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 381-DAA-AB-80

(Complementary course)

What did our ancestors eat and what made them sick? Why are some diseases more common in certain regions or populations? What does it mean to be sick or healthy and how does one get well, according to different cultural perspectives? How does poverty affect health? Using a holistic approach that takes into account the relation between natural and social environments, human biology, and culture, we will cover basic concepts in Anthropology and explore issues in Medical Anthropology related to past and present population health, cross-cultural diversity in perceptions of health and illness, and inequalities in health and healthcare. This course is of value to students with an interest in Anthropology, Life Sciences, Nursing, Social Work, Medicine, Emergency Care, and International Studies.

Wednesday: 18:30 – 21:30

Jan. 30 – May 15

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Introduction to Business

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 401-100-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 401-DAA-03-80

(Complementary course)

This course introduces the economic system within which business operates and then explores the four functional areas of business such as Finance, Marketing, Personnel and Production. By discussing the vocabulary and practices of each of the segments, students derive an understanding of how the areas function independently and together, as well as the social and economic environments which affect them.

Monday: 18:00 – 21:00

Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter

Monday: May 21)

Marketing

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 401-251-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Introduction to Business, 401-100)

This introductory marketing course provides a general but sound understanding of the principles of marketing, conventional marketing terms and definitions, and the marketing manager's job. Students develop, within a Canadian context, an appreciation of the marketing environment and its relationship to marketing problems and decisions. Consumer behaviour and the "marketing mix" (product, price, promotion, distribution) are the basis for the principles under discussion.

Thursday: 18:30 – 21:30

Jan. 31 – May 16

ENGLISH

Introduction to College English

60 hours, 2.66 credits | 603-101-CL-80

60 hours, 2.66 credits | 603-101-CL-81

(No prerequisite) Note: This course is a prerequisite to more advanced English courses.

This course is intended to bring students to a college level of proficiency in the areas of reading and writing about literature. It emphasizes reading comprehension of a variety of literary works (short stories, plays, poems and/or novels) and structured essays about the works. By the end of the semester, students are expected to produce a 750-word essay that meets specific performance criteria.

Section 80

Tuesday: 18:00 – 22:00

Jan. 29 – May 14

Section 81

Thursday: 18:00 – 22:00

Jan. 31 – May 16

Literary Genres

60 hours, 2.33 credits | 603-102-MQ-80

(Prerequisite: Introduction to College English, 603-101)

The main focus of this course is to study the relationship between form and meaning. Students learn to observe and identify such structural elements as plot/character/point of view/ tone, symbol, diction and how these interact to produce meaning. The course will focus on helping students recognize the patterns that enrich the works, the themes that these patterns suggest, and the relationships between the significant elements of the work and the themes. Students are expected to write a 1000-word essay that meets specific criteria.

Wednesday: 18:00 – 22:00

Jan. 30 – May 15

Literary Themes

60 hours, 2.33 credits | 603-103-MQ-80

(Prerequisite: Introduction to College English, 603-101)

The course examines how literature interprets the human condition. Formal analysis (looking at the organization of a work) provides many insights about a literary work, but we can also ask questions about perspective, attitudes, assumptions and social settings. To this end, students in a thematic course should learn to recognize a work's literary themes, cultural context and value system. To pass this course, students are expected to write a 1000-word essay that meets specific criteria.

Thursday: 18:00 – 22:00Jan. 31 – May 16*Forms of Discourse

60 hours, 2.00 credits | 603-200-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Intro. to College English, 603-101)

This course enables students to communicate in forms of discourse appropriate to one or more fields of study. Students learn to recognize appropriate forms and conventions of communication and the organization of various types of discourse. They also learn to develop their own ideas into arguments and theses, and to organize, revise and edit their work. To pass this course students must write a 1000-word essay that meets specific criteria.

Tuesday: 18:00 – 22:00Jan. 29 – May 14*GRAPHIC AND WEB DESIGN*Photoshop for Print and the Web

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 412-DBC-AB-80

(Complementary course)

Using Adobe Photoshop CC, students will learn to retouch and optimize their digital photos and scanned images for print and web. Students will develop computer skills that include colour correction, cropping, colourization, compositing, selecting, resizing images, masking and layering, changing image formats, using channels, transparency, compression, cloning and painting. In addition, students learn how to take better digital photos and acquire proper scanning techniques.

Wednesday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 30 – May 15*HISTORY*History of Western Civilization

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 330-910-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

The roots of western civilization in Mesopotamia and Egypt are examined. Our Greek and Roman heritage, Christianity, barbarian invasions, the fall of the Roman Empire and the first great, uniquely European civilization which took shape during the Middle Ages are also covered. The course emphasizes the Renaissance, Reformation, Scientific Revolution, Age of Discovery, Enlightenment, French Revolution, Industrialization, Nationalism and the Age of Imperialism.

Thursday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 31 – May 16*HUMANITIES

Humanities (Knowledge & World Views) pursue the general goals of: developing logical thought and recognizing its limitations; understanding various ways of acquiring knowledge and how those ways have developed historically; and examining systems of understanding. Knowledge and World Views courses help students understand different views of humanity and of knowledge through the use of a multi-disciplinary approach. This understanding will equip students to analyze, synthesize, and evaluate knowledge claims and world views.

Humanities: World Views

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 345-102-MQ-80

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 345-102-MQ-81

(No prerequisite)

World views are understandings of reality shared by groups or societies defined or self-defined on the basis of common geography, economic status, gender, sexual orientation, ideology, history, religion, spirituality, political values, psychology, language, culture, (dis)ability, etc. Course subtitle to be announced on the first evening of class.

60 hours, 2.33 credits | 345-101-MQ-81

(No prerequisite)

A field of knowledge can be any serious body of knowledge relating to education, law, psychology, creativity, social behaviour, or other disciplines. Humanities approaches each from an interdisciplinary perspective. Course subtitle to be announced on the first evening of class.

Section 80Wednesday: 18:30 – 22:30*Jan. 30 – May 15*Section 81*Thursday: 18:30 – 22:30*Jan. 31 – May 16*MATHEMATICS*Algebra & Trigonometry

90 hours, 3.33 credits | 201-015-50-80

(Prerequisite: Algebra, 201-007 or 201-013 or H.S. Math 426, 436, 526 or Math TS4, SN4).

Does not count as a part of a CEGEP program.

Students learn algebra, radicals, polynomials, rational expressions, factoring, equations and inequalities, functions, graphs, composition of functions, inverses, multiplication, long division, rational functions, parabolas, exponential and logarithmic functions, solving equations, trigonometry, angles, triangle trig, trig functions of any angle, identities, evaluating inverse trig functions and applications.

Monday & Wednesday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter*Monday: May 21)*Calculus I

75 hours, 2.66 credits | 201-NYA-05-80

(DEC pre-university Science program)

75 hours, 2.66 credits | 201-103-RE-80

(DEC pre-university Social Science or Commerce program)

(Prerequisite: Algebra & Trigonometry, 201-009 or H.S. Math 536, TS5, SN5)

This course includes a review of algebra, functions, limits, continuity; differentiation of algebraic, trigonometric, exponential and logarithmic functions; related rates, curve sketching, optimization, including word problems, antiderivatives, definite integrals and areas.

Tuesday & Thursday: 19:00 – 21:30Jan. 29 – May 16*Linear Algebra

75 hours, 2.66 credits | 201-NYC-05-80

(DEC pre-university Science program)

75 hours, 2.66 credits | 201-105-RE-80

(DEC pre-university Social Science or Commerce program)

(Prerequisite: Calculus I, 201-NYA or 201-103)

This course covers the solution of systems of linear equations, matrices, determinants; vectors in 2-space and 3-space, dot product, cross product, lines and planes, introduction to concepts of linear combinations, spans, subspaces, linear dependence and independence, basis, dimension, row space, column space, null space and applications.

Tuesday & Thursday: 19:00 – 21:30Jan. 29 – May 16

NUTRITION

Mindful Nutrition

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 120-DAE-AB-80

(No prerequisite: Complementary course)

Mindful Nutrition focuses on dietary factors that can have preventative or adverse consequences on brain function and thus mental health and behavior throughout one's life. This course is designed to help students understand the impact of nutrition on mental wellbeing. Topics include nutrition in relation to: general health, boosting energy, mood and academic performance, eating disorders, ADHD, depression, dementia and more.

Monday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter Monday: May 21)

PSYCHOLOGY

Introduction to Psychology

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 350-102-AB-80

(No prerequisite)

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 350-DAA-03-80

(Complementary course)

This course is the introductory course to the scientific study of human behaviour. Topics include: the major theoretical approaches to the study of psychology; the scientific methods of research in the behavioural sciences; the biological basis of psychology, including the brain and nervous system; sensation and perception; learning and memory, and stress.

Wednesday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 30 – May 15*Mental Health

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 350-252-AB-80

(Prerequisite: Intro. to Psychology, 350-102)

This course is an introduction to abnormal behaviour. Topics include anxiety disorders, emotional disorders, personality disorders, sociopathy and other syndromes. Course content includes the classification of disorders, various theoretical perspectives on etiology and therapy, and relevant research.

Thursday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 31 – May 16

SOCIOLOGY

Introduction to Sociology

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 387-100-AB -80

(No prerequisite)

This course is designed to provide an initiation to the sociological perspective. Students will be introduced to the sociological perspective and the sociological imagination; linking the individual to society through historical, economic and social forces. The objectives of this course are to enable you to enjoy the study of Sociology and encourage you to pursue further courses in this discipline, and to provide you with a sociological imagination which broadens your understanding to your everyday life.

Monday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter Monday: May 21)*Current Social Issues

45 hours, 2.00 credits | 387-256-AB

(Prerequisite: Intro to Sociology 387-100-AB)

This class will explore the topic of current social issues through the themes of:

- 1- Health (Drugs & Addiction, Mental Illness & Social Disorders)
- 2- Violence (Suicide, Assault & Child Abuse)
- 3- Racism (Racial Profiling, Education, Crime & Punishment)

Current Social Issues is a level two sociology course that seeks to inform students about the social components of health, violence and racism in our society, and the social determinants that create clear patterns in how we as individuals experience these ideas.

This class seeks to probe deeper into how our society defines and explains these ideas (health, violence, racism), and how our society structures the "social systems" that come to create the patterns that shape our lives profoundly. Finally, this course will rely on theories and current data to inform students while helping them to further understand and apply the sociological perspective, while learning to further develop critical thinking skills.

Monday: 19:00 – 22:00Jan. 28 – May 21 (make-up class for Easter Monday: May 21)

GENERAL INFORMATION

Academic Advising: Advisors provide information about program requirements, course selection, change of program, course withdrawal, admission requirements for CEGEP or university, and can assist you in your educational planning. Academic Advising Services, now located in the Herzberg building (H-117), are available to students on an appointment basis. Call between 8:00 and 16:30 for an appointment at: 514-457-6610 ext. 5290 or by e-mail: advisors@johnabbott.qc.ca.

Prior to registration, students can see an Academic Advisor on a drop-in basis.

Drop in hours:

January 14-18, 2019: 10:00 – 16:00

Student Services, Herzberg building (H-117)

January 22, 2019: 16:00 – 19:00

Registrar's Office, Herzberg building (H-128)

Academic Success Centre: The Academic Success Centre acts as the effective study skills resource on campus. It is open and relevant to all JAC students and faculty. Students can receive study skills support (time management, note taking, reading academic texts, essay writing) as well as staff tutoring, drop in, peer content tutoring and faculty are able to reserve in-class workshops. The ASC also hosts many student-centric events throughout the academic year, from book clubs to writing contests to volunteer appreciation gatherings. Visit the ASC in H-148, email at: academicssuccesscentre@johnabbott.qc.ca, or MIO at 'academic success'.

Campus Store: If there is a textbook or specific materials assigned to a course, students are informed by the teacher during the first class. Students are encouraged to purchase their textbooks online at:

bookstore@johnabbott.qc.ca (delivery or pick-up options available).

Regular business hours are from 9:00 to 16:00 weekdays. Visa, MasterCard, Interac and cash are accepted in store. Located in the Stewart Hall building, the Bookstore carries all necessary supplies as well as College memorabilia.

Class Cancellations: During the course of the year, in the event of adverse weather conditions beyond College's control (e.g. power black-out, severe snowstorm, employee strike), the College may have to close. The College will post notices on MY JAC Portal and the College website at www.johnabbott.qc.ca. If the College cannot open because of a major snowstorm or other unforeseen event, radio and TV stations will be advised in the morning and an announcement will be posted on the MY JAC Portal and the college web site.

Class Postponements: Occasionally, classes are postponed on short notice if a teacher is ill or an emergency arises. As a service to students, the Centre for Continuing Education endeavours to contact all students. (It is essential that students provide up-to-date home and/or business telephone numbers on their registration forms.) Make-up days for postponed classes are arranged by the teacher, in consultation with the class. Students can be informed of class postponements through the OMNIVOX system.

Counselling

Adult students often ask themselves the following questions: What would be the most successful way for me to juggle family, job and school commitments? Is there a better way to deal with my personal problems? Should I consider making a career change? Talking things over with a qualified professional may help you find the answers. Drop by (H-148) or call 514-457-6610 x5292 to make an appointment to see a psychologist or counsellor between 8:30 and 16:30. A social work technician is also available to meet with students until 19:00. These confidential services are available to students currently registered in full-time AEC programs or semester-long credit courses at Continuing Education.

Food Services: The Stewart Cafeteria located in Stewart Hall, is open from 7:30 until 16:30 from Monday to Thursday and until 15:30 on Friday. A Tim Hortons® snack-bar located on the main floor of the Casgrain building, opposite the pool, is open in the evening until 18:00, Monday to Thursday and until 15:30 on Friday. There are vending machines located at various areas throughout the campus, including Brittain Hall.

I.D. Cards: You must have a valid student identification card if you wish to borrow books from the College Library. I. D. cards are also used for College security and to obtain reduced admission costs to many College and public functions. Your I.D. card photo can be uploaded via My JAC Portal in your "Personal File" or directly from your smartphone via the Omnivox app. I.D. cards are printed, or cards from a previous semester are updated in the Student Activities office (Herzberg building, Room 159) February 4–7, 2019 from 18:00-19:15.

Library Media Services: The library will be undergoing renovations until December 2019. Services and staff have been relocated on campus. Updates of location are announced on My JAC Portal. You must have a valid I.D. card or a course print-out in order to borrow from the library. Library hours from January to December 5, 2019, unless otherwise posted, are as follows: Monday to Friday from 8:00 to 18:00; Saturday & Sunday – Closed. Closed legal holidays. Students have off campus access to databases, journals, eBooks and streaming videos via the library webpage/catalogue. A valid student number is required. For assistance, call the Library Reference Desk during business hours 514-457-6610 ext. 5331.

Parking: Continuing Education students who wish to park on campus between 7:00 and 16:00 must purchase a parking decal through My JAC Portal Omnivox services : <http://johnabbott.omnivox.ca>, using a valid credit card. The charge for parking during the day is $24.00 per month. Parking permits must be visible on all cars parked on campus between 7:00 and 16:00. Owners of cars not displaying a valid parking decal will receive an infraction ticket issued by the MUC police. Visit the College website: www.johnabbott.qc.ca for detailed parking information and restrictions. Parking is free after 16:00.

Registrar's Office: The Registrar's Office is located in the Herzberg building (H-128). Administrative help is available to assist students with general information, registration, course changes and course withdrawals. Regular business hours are Monday to Friday, 8:00–16:30. On Tuesday, January 22, 2019, the Registrar's Office has extended hours (See p. 1 for details).

Services for Students Requiring Accommodations: Access Centre:

Services for students that require accommodations are coordinated by the Access Centre. We offer a variety of services to support students with documented disabilities to pursue academic success. We assist students with learning disabilities, hearing, visual or motor-coordination impairments, and/or chronic medical or mental health conditions that warrant assistance. Services provided include: note-takers, exam invigilation, priority registration, attendant care, specialized equipment and software. For more information, please call the Access Centre at: 514-457-6610 ext. 5398, or e-mail at access_centre@johnabbott.qc.ca.
